Remaining safe and secure at home when health care conditions change is a challenge. Working with unique combinations of health care resources, the staff at Personal Living Systems are dedicated to providing personal hands on care to ensure the safety and well-being of every client in their own home.

Personal Living Systems is a non-medical home maker and attendant program offering a wide variety of assistance with daily activities that have become too difficult for an individual to manage. Personal Care Attendants provide these services to help avoid the risk of injury due to illness, progressive disease, or just the result of the natural aging process. An assessment is completed by our qualified staff to determine if the program is appropriate and to recommend the number of hours that an individual may need to remain safe.
